"The work Jewish Family Service does in this community, right here, where each of us lives, occurs on the front lines. We can put our finger on JFS programming; we can immediately identify with its constituents and verify the results. JFS has been around over 100 years because those who came before us were driven by the moral imperative to perpetuate it from generation to generation. Now it is our job, our obligation, to do likewise."

- Dan Plotkin
